

Willie Brown Award

The Willie Brown award is an award given by the brown family each year at the fair. Mr. Brown was one of the first people to introduce miniature horses to this area, and the first person to bring miniature horses to the White County Fair. Mr. Brown shared his love for these animals for many years and was devoted to breeding and showing them.

We lost Mr. Brown in September 2006. His family wanted to continue his work and love for miniature horses, and decided to give a memorial award in his name each year by presenting a savings bond as well as a plaque. In order to choose a recipient, a member of the Brown family will be present and watching the children during the week of the fair. They will be watching for those who display good sportsmanship in and out of the show ring, those who care for and love their horses, assistance at the barn throughout the week, as well as overall attitude.
